

CFAP 2 Information Collector

Sales Commodities

(Examples: Nursery, Floriculture, Christmas Trees, Meat Goats, Goat Milk, Wool, Honey, Bison, Buffalo, Beefalo, Llamas, Emus, Alpacas, Pheasants, and Quail)

Application Period: September 21, 2020 through December 11, 2020

Information required from producers is self-certification of 2019 sales of eligible commodities. The 2019 sales must be determined reasonable by the Farm Service Agency County Committee. Eligible sales only include sales of raw commodities grown by the producer. Added value to the commodity such as processing and packaging must not be included in the amount of sales. Additionally, commodities purchased for resale must not be included in the amount of sales.

For operations with multiple owners, each individual owner must certify and apply for his/her individual share. Sales reported should reflect your nationwide ownership interest, regardless of where your operation is located.

Definitions and additional information are found on the back of this page.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

- Please be prepared to either verify your existing direct deposit information or provide account information (have a copy of a check available). If you do not have an existing direct deposit account set up with us, we will ask you to mail a voided check to our office.
- Supporting production/inventory documents are not required to be provided at signup because the application is self-certification. HOWEVER, the Farm Service Agency County Committee may request supporting documentation for any questionable information provided on the application.
- Producers who are approved for participation in CFAP 2 are required to retain documentation in support of their application for 3 years after the date of approval.
- Participants receiving CFAP 2 payments or any other person who furnishes such information to USDA must permit authorized representatives of USDA or GAO during regular business hours, to enter the agricultural operation and to inspect, examine, and to allow representatives to make copies of books, records or other items for the purpose of confirming the accuracy of the information provided by the participant.
- Programs administered by DAFP require accurate information from producers. Producers must understand that failure to provide complete and accurate information and records could result in any, or all, of the following:
 - an application for CFAP 2 assistance being disapproved, COC adjusted, or approved but ineligible for payment
 - the producer(s) being determined ineligible for FSA programs for the year or multiple years
 - the producer(s) being liable under any civil or criminal fraud statute or any statute or provision of law.
